THE EYES OF ALL HOPE IN THE LORD

Words by Kathleen Pluth
Music by Colin Brumby

Andante \( \frac{d}{2} = 72 \)

1. The eyes of all hope in the Lord. He gives them food in proper time. His open hands shall grant them more than any asks or has in mind.

2. He needs no store-rooms full of food. Five loaves of bread, some fish, provide enough to feed a multitude upon a lonely mountainside.
   satiated. And when the crowd has amply fed, twelve baskets-ful are set aside.

3. The hungry eat their fill of bread: five thousand people all his deeds. The Lord's almighty hand supports the fainting heart, the trembling knee.

4. The Lord is just in all his words: compassionate in great and small. The one who knows their every need will not refuse to give them all.

5. And so let faithful Christians plead an end to hunger, rustic feast to trust in him whose care abides: our Sacrament, our Life, our Priest.

6. And may our hearts be purified in this great Eucharist.

© Colin Brumby & Kathleen Pluth 2009